

Intellectual and industrial property law is a very topical area in the legal practice, and requires specific knowledge and specialisation from the legal professionals working with these issues. At JAUSAS, our lawyers advising our clients in this practice area provide legal assistance in all questions related to intellectual and industrial property rights; such as creation, acquisition, sales, maintaining and licensing of rights.

Among the principal services offered by this practice area are the following:

- Drafting of contracts related to intellectual property rights.
- Drafting of contracts related to patents.
- Advertising law.
- Legal representation in different legal and administrative procedures in this area.
- Advice on protecting software and web pages.
- Advice on protecting brand names and trademarks.
- Registration of Spanish, European and international trade marks.
- Registration of Spanish and European patents, ECT, utility models and industrial models.
- Defence against brand forgery by providing reports and expert testimonies, as well as representing the client in civil and criminal proceedings.
- Protection of intellectual properties related to film industry and television productions.
- Registering and transferring of domain names.